STIMULUS FOR THE GLOBAL MEDICAL BUSINESS

Once a year, the biggest international trade fair for medicine, MEDICA, sends out powerful stimuli for the medical technology industry around the world. This unique event for the industry is a networking and communication platform for all important markets, a place where groundbreaking business relationships that have an impact in all areas of the health sector and the world originate: more than 128,000, mostly international trade visitors, attended MEDICA in 2016, and learnt about the latest news and developments from over 5,000 exhibitors. One important quality feature of the audience: more than 80 per cent had decision-making power.

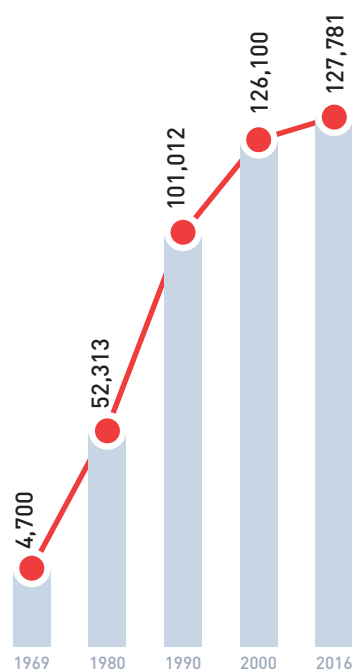

COMPAMED, the leading international suppliers' forum that is held parallel with MEDICA, provides added value in terms of medical developments. This concept leads to fruitful synergies between both industries: in 2016, 774 COMPAMED exhibitors from 37 countries guaranteed a lively exchange between the people involved in both trade fairs.

In addition, the offer is completed by a supporting programme that is fine-tuned to the contents of MEDICA. Numerous conferences and forums stand for a top-quality transfer of know-how between experts from the fields of politics, commerce and science, exhibitors and trade visitors, and have become established as crowd-pullers for the discerning public.

These special attributes make MEDICA a firm part of the development process for tomorrow's medicine. Messe Düsseldorf is investing heavily in the future to maintain this status: 2017 will see the start of construction work for the new South Entrance and an adjacent hall, which with more than 12,000 square metres will replace the old Halls 1 and 2. In this way, exhibitors will profit from a wide and bright exhibition area in two years' time – up to the latest technical standard, with more presentation options and a direct connection to the CCD South. For this reason, MEDICA exhibitors from Halls 1 and 2 will be accommodated in modern, temporary halls at strategically favorable locations on the trade fair ground until its completion in 2019.

WE ARE BUILDING FOR YOU

The new hall 1 and South Entrance

We are giving our home base on the Rhine a completely new look with the new hall 1 and the great new South Entrance. And are making it even better. With more presentation options. Meeting places. Room for your business. We can't wait for 2019! And for you to feel even more at home with us. 7,800 square metres next to the Rhine with a view of the Düsseldorf skyline – all of this under a 20 metre high, translucent canopy: This is how we will be welcoming you as of 2019. After 170 metres you will then pass the glazed front of the new South Entrance. Just a few steps further and you are in the middle of it all: the foyer, offering more than 2,000 square metres of space for meetings and events. Take a little look upwards too! You will then discover the glazed conference room that protrudes into the foyer above the heads of visitors to our trade fair and congress.

158 metres long, 77 metres wide and with more than 12,000 square metres of space, the new hall 1 replaces today's halls 1 and 2. And will cope with the high technical standards on the overall exhibition site. How's the new hall 1? We hope you like it! And as a pedestrian you'll have no trouble finding it through the CCD South, to which it is directly connected. Apart from the connection to halls 3 and 4, a route leads from the South Entrance directly to the remaining exhibition site. We aim to create the best connections spatially too!
